PSHE- By this end of this unit I will be able to-
I can tell you 3 ways I am proud to be different.
I can tell you that we should be friends with everyone no matter how different they are because that is kind.
I know that people can be horrible to others because they look or sound different and that is not ok.
I know it is wrong to be horrible to others and it is right to be kind to everyone.
I can tell you a stereotype is thinking that boys should wear trousers and play with trains and girls should wear dresses and play with dolls. This is not always true.

Social and Emotional - By this end of this unit I will be able to-

I know that boys and girls can like the same games and hobbies, clothes and toys and this is a good thing.
I know that boys and girls can look different, like different games, hobbies, clothes and toys and this is ok.
I know that if someone is being unkind I can say 'stop I don't like that' or 'stop doing to my friend, she doesn't like it'.
I know that bullying makes you feel sad, lonely, anxious and other sad emotions because someone has been so unkind and made them feel that way.
I can tell you a list of positive emotions I feel when I think about being a friend and having a friend.
I know it is mean to think that someone who is different must be weird or bad.

Diversity
We can be friends with everyone no matter how different they are from us.

It's playtime! Yay!
Billy asks B to play!
Bella asks B to play!
Billy, Bella and B are playing together!

Even though we like different things, it's great to be friends.

Reflection Questions

Ask me this- Can you think of a stereotype in relation to boys and girls?

Why do you think differences between people sometimes means one bullies the other?

Stereotypes
Boys and Girls are the same and different. We shouldn't make assumptions about what they should do, how they should look or act.

BULLING

- It doesn't just happen once: it goes on over time and happens again and again.
- It is deliberate: hurting someone on purpose, not accidentally.
- It is unfair: the person doing the bullying is stronger and more powerful (or there are more of them).
